Upon disembarking the ship at Port Said, you will be met and depart for the three-hour drive to Cairo.

Upon arrival to Cairo, you will be visiting The Citadel and Mohamed Ali Mosque. It is also referred to as the Alabaster Mosque due to the extensive use of that stone on some of the exterior walls and other surfaces. The mosque, the largest such structure built during the first half of the 19th century, is more impressive at a distance than close-up. Situated on the summit of the Citadel high atop the Citadel grounds, its great dome and towering minarets are the first features that catch your eye at the fortress.

Next, lunch will be served at deluxe restaurant in the heart of the city before visiting the Egyptian museum of antiquities located in Tahrir square, the present museum building was built in 1900, in the neo classical style by the French architect Marcel Bourgeon. The museum exhibited collections now exceed 12000 objects range from prehistoric era to the Greco Roman period. The museum consists of two floors, The museum's ground floor follows the history of ancient Egypt, the second floor consist of thousands of smaller items from the span of Egyptian history.

One of the most important rooms in the Egyptian museum hosts the Treasure of Tutankhamun, the boy-king who ruled Egypt for nine years. The mightiness of his treasures still fascinates us to this very day.

Check in at your 5 stars hotel.

This evening you will enjoy the spectacular Sound and Light show at the Pyramids' area.

After the show dinner will be served at your hotel.

Overnight in Cairo.

Day 2, Saturday, 22nd of June 2024 - Cairo to Alexandria

After a buffet breakfast at the hotel, you will check-out and depart for the visit of Sakkara.

The Step Pyramid of Sakkara overlooks Zoser's mortuary complex. Dating from 2700 BC, the Step Pyramid is the oldest stone structure in the world and was designed by Imhotep for King Djoser. In addition to Djoser's Step Pyramid, there are another 16 pyramids on the site in various states of preservation or decay. Sakkara is also home to an impressive number of mastaba tombs. Because the necropolis was lost beneath the sands for much of the past two millennia, many of the mastaba tombs have been superbly preserved, with both their structures and lavish internal decorations intact.

Following Sakkara visit, you will be visiting the Great Pyramids of Giza, which are considered the most famous of Egypt's attractions and the only monuments left of the ancient wonders The three main Pyramids at Giza were built as tombs by Cheops, his son Chephren, and Chephren's son Mykiernus to preserve each of the pharaohs' mummified body for eternity.

For centuries, these unique structures have intrigued the world while surviving the rise and fall of great dynasties.

Southeast of the great Pyramid stands the Sphinx carved out of solid rock around 2650 BC. Steeped in legend and superstition, the sphinx was a monument either to the sun god Ra or to Pharaoh Chephren.

Next, lunch will be served at one of the deluxe restaurants.

RHODES, GREECE

With its age-old history and incredible natural beauty, Rhodes has always been a major pole of attraction. The island boasts a mild climate, a unique and varied landscape, dazzling blue sea and a host of historical monuments. It is the site of one of the Seven Wonders of the Ancient World – the Colossus of Rhodes.

The Island was inhabited as far back as the 16th century BC. The golden era was from the 5th to the 3rd century BC when Rhodes was an important religious, commercial and political centre. During this period Rhodes became one of the most important trading centres in the Mediterranean. Thanks to its strategic location, Rhodes was also of vital importance to the Crusaders and the Ottoman Empire. The present day city of Rhodes is a fascinating medieval city completely enclosed by a five mile flower covered wall. The medieval part of the city, once occupied by the Turks, is absolutely fascinating with narrow stone paved streets, 15th century buildings, archways, flying buttresses, minarets and fountains. The Street of the Knights is the finest example of a late Gothic street to be found anywhere in Europe. The Fifteenth century inns of the Knights of Seven Languages were built along this street, and four of them remain standing to this day. At the end of the Street of the Knights is the imposing 14th century Grand Master's palace, a massive citadel that dominates the old town. It was destroyed in 1856 and reconstructed in 1939.

During the winter season (Through May) the Ministry of Tourism reserves the right to open museums on Mondays or not as the case may be. Excursions will be modified accordingly.

The explosion is said to have altered the course of history in the ancient world. What remains has become one of the most famous of the Greek Isles simply because of its dramatic beauty. The town of Thira situated on the rim of the volcano is stunningly attractive with whitewashed and pastel-colored buildings. The cafes and hotels built on the hill overlooking the harbor offer one of the most spectacular views in the world. Santorini will start to weave its magic as soon as you take the cable car from the harbor to the town, and gaze upon the awesome spectacle of Nature in all its dramatic beauty. Min 15 participants

Transportation: air-conditioned motorcoach

Your tour starts at Athinios pier where local guides and buses are waiting there to take you to the site of Akrotiri, one of the most important prehistoric settlements in the Aegean.

In the last quarter of the 17th century B.C. few earthquakes followed by an eruption forced all the inhabitants to abandon it. The volcanic materials covered the entire island and the town itself. These materials, however, have protected up to date the buildings and their contents, just like in Pompei.

Marvelous frescoes were found in some of the houses as well as many vessels and utensils of everyday use.

After your guided tour of the site, you continue on and after a short drive you arrive in Oia. Together with your guide take a short walk through the village of Oia or spend some time on your own. Also, you will have the opportunity to enter the artists' workshops, to meet them and talk with them. See the architecture and typical Santorinian style of houses and churches. After that will start your return journey to Fira, the attractive capital town. MILOS, GREECE

Milos is part of the Cyclades and can be considered one of the most exotic island in the Aegean Sea because of its extraordinary colours and landscape shaped by its volcanic past. It offers to visitors incredible beaches, an exotic beauty and several highlights.

Sarakiniko and Kleftiko, with their white rock formations, emerald green waters and caves eroded by the sea, are steeped in stories of pirates. But they are rivalled by early Christian catacombs, an array of beaches and the multicoloured settlements of Klima, Emborios and Mandrakia.

Milos discovery tour

Duration: 3:00 approx.

Price: 55 €

Min 20 / Max 32 participants

Transportation: air-conditioned minibus

Activity level: moderate

Departing from the port, after short coach drive we arrive in Sarakiniko, unusual and unique area often compared to a lunar landscape. Sarakiniko is the outcome of volcanic eruptions and probably it is the most photographed spot on Milos. Our next photo stop will be Papafrangas one of the most famous picturesque spots sculpted by nature after volcanic eruptions. This soft volcanic rock has been formed over the years into inlets and sea caves, wonderful for swimming and snorkelling. Visitors can approach and look down into this deep ravine, often observing the more adventurous tourists below swimming in and around these fantastic sea caves. Phylakopi, right next to Papafrangas is a settlement dating back to Neolithic times.

Leaving the site by coach, on our way to Plaka we shall admire the view along the coast, while the guide will be talking about all aspects of Milos (geology, history, flora and fauna, modern day living etc). Being 250m above sea level Plaka will offer astonishing views on the surrounding area and neighbouring islands. In the island's capital, you will have some time for refreshment or to visit the Folk museum (all optional) and pass by local churches, strolling through the narrow cobbled streets with houses built in traditional style.

Please note: this tour involves moderate walking on uneven surfaces, inclines, steps, cobblestones.

Guests are advised to wear weather-appropriate clothes and comfortable walking shoes and to bring a hat and a bottle of water.

MONEMVASIA, GREECE

The island of Monemvasia was separated from the mainland by an earthquake in 375 AD and is sometimes called “the Gibraltar of the East”. The city was fortified during the 13th century under Byzantine rule and was established as a successful trading port. The Pope ruled the city for a brief period from 1460-1464 before the Venetians took over, building a 535 ft long fortified bridge to protect them from their enemies. During Venetian rule the city flourished, the population reached 30,000 and many houses and churches were built. Later the city fell to the Turks who ruled for nearly 300 years from the mid sixteenth to the early nineteenth centuries, with the exception of a short-lived takeover by the Venetians.

The Walled lower town extends along the slopes of a 985ft crag that projects into the sea on the east side of the Peloponnese. The population of this impressive stronghold was gradually depleted as more and more of the inhabitants moved to the mainland. However, a restoration program aimed at preserving Monemvasia’s heritage has given the Lower Town a new lease of life, and people from the mainland have started to return to this attractive tourist center.

The Upper Town is located on top of the Rock of Monemvasia. It is reached via a zigzagging path. Once an impregnable bastion, it is now completely uninhabited. Visitors can explore the remains of the ancient citadel-castle and have a look inside the church of Hagia Sofia. There are also fantastic views to be had of the surrounding area.

Time at leisure (no tours in program)

HYDRA, GREECE

According to legend this beautiful island was once the home of the Hydra, the many headed monster killed by Heracles, hence its name. These days it is considered the most cosmopolitan of the Greek islands and many celebrities from Greece and abroad spend their vacations here. It is also beloved by artists from all over the world for its natural beauty and distinctive architecture, which have also made it a favorite film making location.

The town rises up like an amphitheater from the port area, remaining hidden until the very last moment for those approaching by sea. It owes its unique character to the impressive mansions that were built in the late 18th century for wealthy Hydriot ship-owners by architects from Venice and Genoa. These houses differ from the usual Greek island architecture because of their individuality, size and sloping tiled roofs. During this period, Hydra possessed an important fleet and was sometimes called “Little England” because of its seafaring prowess and flair for commerce. No motor vehicles are allowed on Hydra, a designated Landmark Preservation area, and all transport is by boat, on foot or by donkey. The island is an irresistible mixture of old and new with night clubs, bars, waterfront cafés, restaurants, and boutiques blending harmoniously with picturesque lanes and bare hills dotted with dazzling white chapels and windmills.
