Sightseeing | Outdoors

Situated in the center of the town of Portsmouth in northern Dominica, the “Indian River” owes its name to the Kalinago people, formerly known as Carib Indians, who once settled on its upper banks. The river flows from the Morne aux Diables mountain range and meanders gently through the lowlands of Portsmouth into the Caribbean Sea. Because it is below sea level, the lower parts of the river are brackish, supporting a unique ecosystem of flora and fauna. Species such as herons, kingfishers, and iguanas are often seen here and many still thrive even after the devastation caused by Hurricane Maria. The surrounding vegetation continues to flourish and regenerate. Experienced boatmen will row you in traditional wooden boats, moving slowly to let you take in the rich wildlife and lush vegetation along the banks. You will also see filming locations from Pirates of the Caribbean. Upriver, you will disembark for a short 10-minute stroll through botanical gardens and visit the famous Bush Bar. Try the signature “Dynamite” rum punch - a strong local specialty.

Please note:

✓ Rowboats accommodate up to 8 passengers. The boat ride includes a safety briefing and lasts approximately one hour round-trip.

✓ Dress for the weather, wear comfortable walking shoes and bring a hat, sunscreen, insect repellent, and water.

✓ The drive between the port and the Indian River is approximately 15 minutes. A driver-guide will accompany you on the drive; river guides will take over for the rowboat tour.

Enjoy a scenic tour of the island in air-conditioned comfort as you head towards your destination: the Pointe Baptiste Estate, located near Calibishie Village. This private domain stretches over 25 acres and features a historic guesthouse from the 1930s, a chocolate factory with a cottage above it, and magnificent gardens filled with flowers.

Cocoa is grown and harvested by local producers who follow ecological and sustainable practices. The chocolate factory is a small family business committed to these principles.

Upon arrival, family members will welcome you personally and invite you to explore their estate. You will learn about cocoa cultivation and the chocolate-making process. They will enthusiastically share their knowledge and explain the journey from cocoa bean to chocolate bar.

Discover the unique flavors of their gourmet chocolates: dark chocolate bars ranging from 60%, 80%, 90%, up to 100% pure cocoa beans, infused with ginger, coffee, spices (nutmeg, cinnamon, cloves), chili, lemongrass, tangerine, mint, and more. Each guest will receive a chocolate bar of their choice and may also purchase truffles or cocoa nibs.

The excursion also includes a tour of the estate's flower garden, one of the most beautiful in Dominica, featuring a wide variety of mature trees, flowers, orchids, and medicinal plants. The air is fragrant with jasmine, ylang-ylang, and frangipani, creating a paradise for birds, butterflies, and nature lovers. After the tour, there will be time to enjoy refreshments before returning to the ship.

Board an air-conditioned minibus for a 30-minute scenic drive across the island to the northeast coast and the village of Seaton's, home base for Stingray City. Here you will be greeted by local staff who will brief you on the equipment and give safety tips to ensure a fun interaction with the rays.

Take a boat to the calm crystal-clear waters surrounding the coral reef where the stingrays live. Upon arrival at the enclosure, you will disembark onto a floating platform where your local guide will provide snorkel equipment and give a safety briefing before you enter the water. The warm waters on the sandbar and surrounding reef have an average depth of 4 ft and provide an ideal environment for everyone to meet these amazing creatures.

Your guide will introduce you to the rays, who are incredibly friendly, encouraging them to come to the surface so you can gently touch them and take photos. Stingrays have a barb midway down their long tails, but they only use it defensively if they feel threatened. You may want to feed them a little squid along with your guide. Stingrays do not have teeth but a vacuum-like mouth that sucks up their food. Other local marine life at the stingray enclosure may include crabs, lobster, shellfish, and starfish. Enjoy an amazing guided tour featuring three key stops to discover Antigua's rich history: Nelson's Dockyard (a UNESCO World Heritage Site), Shirley Heights Lookout, and the ruins of Betty's Hope Sugar Plantation.

Board your air-conditioned minibus for a short drive to English Harbour and Nelson's Dockyard. Built in 1725, Nelson's Dockyard was the base for the English naval squadron patrolling the West Indies.

Follow a local guide on a short, informative walking tour through the Dockyard, exploring beautifully restored Georgian buildings, detailed plaques, and many points of interest. You'll be served a refreshing rum punch or fruit punch, followed by free time to explore the Dockyard's museum, art gallery, gift shop, and boutiques.

Continue through Antigua's countryside to the ruins of Betty's Hope Sugar Plantation, home to the only twin sugar mills in the Eastern Caribbean and renovated sugar trains. This open-air museum is a memorial to the countless African slaves who lived and died there. Sir Christopher Codrington, a member of a wealthy sugar plantation family from Barbados, named the estate "Betty's Hope" after his daughter. The traditional history of modern-style rum tells of its invention in the Caribbean, in the 17th century, by slaves on sugarcane plantations, who discovered that molasses, a by-product of the sugar refining process, could be fermented into alcohol, and then distilled. What better way to learn of the history of Caribbean rum in a fun and interactive class and then create and conceive your own bespoke 750ml bottle of flavoured rum complete with label under the watchful and helpful eyes of experts in a 90 minutes rum masterclass?

You will be met at Falmouth jetty and driven the 5 minutes or so to picturesque and historic Galleon Beach. Now the fun begins: our experts will show you how to create truly exceptional and unique rum. They will take you through a selection of rum flavouring samples to help you create your own rum blend as unique as your imagination. The characteristics of rum are varied and unique. We'll teach you the art of tasting and blending your rum during the distillation process to create a perfect bottle for you. Each guest works with their own pot still to create a bottle of rum truly unique to them, distilled in the traditional West Indian way. By the end of the class you'll take away a 750ml bottle of your own exceptional bespoke rum. Once you've created your rum, we'll take you through the bottling and labelling process to ensure it looks as distinctive as the rum you've created. Personalised labels and a wax sealed bottle ensure you can take your rum home safely and proudly share your one-of-a-kind creation.
